Stephanie Madrigal received her Bachelors and Masters Degrees in Speech Pathology from San Jose State University. She is currently the lead therapist and clinical manager at Michelle G. Winner's Social Thinking Clinic, in San Jose. Stephanie's role has expanded to product development and she has created a story and curriculum entitled, Superflex- A Social Thinking Superhero!

The purpose of this Superhero Social Thinking (SST) curriculum is to provide the social-thinking educator, teacher, or parent with a fun, motivating, and non-threatening way for our students to explore social thinking while increasing their knowledge of social expectations, their awareness of their own behavior and how to modify their behaviors with Superflexible strategies.

The children learn about how each of them have a “Superflex” superhero in their brain that is constantly being challenged daily by their very own “Team of Unthinkables, ” such as Rock Brain, Topic Twister Meister, and Mean Jean.

Our students have difficulty monitoring and regulating their own behaviors in the moment, and this curriculum provides a fun forum in which they can explore their own challenges and identify ways to modify their thoughts and related behaviors in different settings.
